Hi Valois,

When the CRGRID is up and running again, you won't need a user account. The interactive map is open to the public. Architectural historians who record structures, buildings, cemeteries and bridges are really the only folks that need an account.

Thank you!
Paige

Thanks very much!

I forgot to ask about the CRGRID map application. I found the page to request a user account. For any future UIC permits in South Dakota, are we allowed to access CRGRID to see what has already been identified at a site?

Thanks!

Hi Paige,
Just following up on the voicemail message, I wanted to talk through how we should proceed with wrapping up our Dewey-Burdock UIC permits and how do conduct any future consultation with you if we have any UIC permits in South Dakota in the future.

Today I can be reached at 303-437-7314. Tomorrow I will be in the office: 303-312-6276.

Thanks!
